Father Lee Hutchison

At last Wednesday's service we remembered Saint Mary the mother of Jesus. Sometimes the role of woman and their influence on Gods people is overlooked so I wanted to remind ourselves of a few women whose actions had huge influence on shaping the actions of their children and others which then had a great influence on our faith. Huldah the prophetess, made sure the book of Deuteronomy was included in our scripture. Timothy who was young leader in the church was reminded by Paul that Timothys faith was the result of the faithfulness of his mother and grandmother. 3 example of mothers and their influence on their children and our faith.

Hannah so wanted to be a mother and for years her prayers had not been answered. So, she goes to her place of worship. She is sitting in tears mumbling prayers when the priest sees her. He thinks she is drunk but she corrects him and explains her situation. She tells Eli the chief priest if she were to have a child she would dedicate that child to the service of God. Eli blesses her. Later She conceives and after the child is weaned give him up to service in the temple. Her son Samuel goes on to not only restore the proper worship of God, he also oversees the transition to rule by a King dramatically reshaping not only the worship of God but also how our ancestors in faith were governed.

Herodias is an example of negative influence over a child. She had divorced her husband in order to marry his half-brother, who had divorced his wife to marry Herodias. We are talking kings and princesses here so the new marriage brought with it new alignment of political power. While the criticism of John of the marriage of Herodias and Antipas was focused the moral question of right and wrong, Johns' criticism also questioned the new found political power of Herodias and Antipas. So, when the daughter of Herodias danced before the king who was so impressed he offered her up to 1/2 his kingdom she said Mom what should I do? Seeing an opportunity to silence such a powerful critic she said ask for the head of John the Baptist...she did and John was executed...The influence we have over our children.

Mary the mother Of Jesus. She agrees to be part of Gods plan for salvation and she is present in the life of Jesus from his conception to his death and the establishment of the church. She saw that Jesus made it to worship, she raised him in the faith. No evidence of anything extraordinary about childhood of Jesus other than he had a passion for his faith, so much so he wanted to stay in the temple in Jerusalem to learn more about God. Mary was responsible for nudging Jesus towards his first miracle. On the 3rd day of a celebration of a marriage when the hosts run out of wine. Mary calls Jesus over and says they are out of wine and Jesus says so? That is not my problem. Mary understands that Jesus can intervene...call it mothers' intuition... she walks away telling the servants to do whatever Jesus tells them to do...they fill 6 stone water jars each of which held about 26 gallons with water then Jesus tells them to take it to the steward who samples the wine and is amazed at the quality of the wine.

Never underestimate your ability to influence the people around you. You can nudge others into a fuller faith. You also can nudge others away from faith. Be proactive in sharing the abundance of God's Grace and Love with your family and friends. It is the foundation on which a healthy church is built

Words from the Wardens

As we look forward to fall, these are some of the things we've completed or are still in the works.

Work has begun on the sign at the front of the church. A recent storm practically destroyed that huge tree on the right of the driveway. We had to remove what was left. With the damage that was done to the tree, it's a miracle that nothing else was affected by the storm.

The windows outside the education building have been painted and areas with rotting wood have been replaced. Some touch up painting will be done along the breezeway to the church. Power washing completed the sprucing up of the buildings ( thanks Bob).

Voicing of our organ was completed to fine tune the performance.

In a couple weeks we will have rally day celebrating the start of the church year. Hamburgers and hotdogs will be provided. You are invited to bring a side dish or dessert to share.

We look forward to a busy and exciting fall.

Congratulations, Fr. Lee

Making it to the top of Mount Sherman is quite an accomplishment!

The sign he is holding says:

Mt. Sherman 14043 feet

Have a safe journey back. Your Saint Martin's family is looking forward to see you soon and hear all about it.

Words from Rev. Dr. Sandra Levy-Mix

"Reach Out of the Darkness': As Timely Now as it was Then"

When David and I take walks or just relaxing on the front porch, we listen to Pandora music station on my cell phone. And we almost always have it tuned in to either the Roy Orbison station or Gordon Lightfoot. And recently we heard the song, "Reach Out of the Darkness" by the folk duo, Friend and Lover—their one big hit released in 1967.

And being a child of the 60's, that song and its lyrics brought back a slew of memories from that period. We were that idealistic generation with messages to save the world—messages of peace, love, protest, urging each other to "teach your parents well." There were a couple of verses I especially loved:

I knew a man that I did not care for
And then one day, this man gave me a call
We sat and talked about things on our mind
And now this man, he is a friend of mine

Reach out in the darkness
Reach out in the darkness
Reach out in the darkness
And you may find a friend. . .

I think it's so groovy now
That people are finally getting together. . .

Reach out in the darkness. . .

In the third book of my trilogy concerning the nature of being human—from our genes to our ultimate destiny—The Fiction of Our Lives: Creating Our Stories Over Lifetime (Cascade Books, 2016), I discussed at some length our music of the Protest Generation. So if you will permit me to quote myself (I give myself permission!), here goes:

The protest songs of the '60's and '70's were educational in the way Dan Levitin meant in his The World in Six Songs. Songs--such as Arlo Guthrie's "Alice's Restaurant" (where Guthrie sings about being arrested for littering but then being found highly acceptable by the local draft board in order to "kill, kill" {See lead photo)—all convey pointed protest aimed at war and racism. . . Political movements fueled by such songs are a form of social bonding, stimulating and motivating the participants to action. (Pg. 77)

. . . This was a powerful quality of rock (back then but) the music also became a means of critically confronting the present."

Which brings me—fortunately or unfortunately—to today. We are a divided nation—not for the first time but in our time. Where we "other" the other and view the other Party as enemy. The counter cultural movement of the 60's was not just about sex, drugs, and rock and roll. Not just some utopian time where "you had to be there, man!" But it offers a history of how struggles over culture and what it means to be a citizen affected our behavior and beliefs. That history does hold lessons for us today as we stare across our divide and try to heal our union. As one writer puts it, "the need remains to invent modes of citizenship suitable for the difficult conditions of more recent times."

Rev. Dr. Sandi continued ... from previous page

And here we are right in the midst of those “difficult times.” So “reach out in the darkness” and you just might find that one of those “Others” turns out to be a friend!

Well, here's hoping!

Outreach Committee - Martha Sneary

The Outreach Committee is excited to report that we were able to deliver around 2000 items to the three grade schools in our area! This translated to around 10 grocery bags full to each of the schools. Along with the help from Richmond Women's Club, St. Martin's delivered a variety of the school supplies on the lists for Ridge, Skipwith, and Longan Elementary schools. The staff from the schools were delighted to see all those things coming in their doors. A GREAT BIG THANK YOU TO YOU ALL!

School supplies delivery - Monday August 12

Our Lamb's Basket donation on August 1 was 76lbs.

Outreach help needed for St. Martin's Project! Only four Saturdays/year. We meet for 2-3 hours to make meals for the homeless. The Blue team needs 2-3 added members. This team meets on the third Saturday of the month in March, June, September, and December. Please consider helping with this great outreach. Contact Martha Sneary for more information. 830-660-5756

Stations of the Cross

- Betty Horne

The photos were taken in the small township of Les Andeleys. Eglise Saint Sauveur in Normandy, France, built in 1202 in the gothic style. There were many beautiful stained glass windows.

One section depicted the 14 Stations of the Cross.

Stained glass windows are difficult to photograph and the photos unfortunately don't show their beauty.

Condolences!

to the family and friends of

Sally D. Dvorak

April 16, 1934 - August 2, 2024

We give thanks for the life of Sally who passed at the age of 90.
Celebration of her life took place at Saint Martin's on August 12, 2024 at 11 am.

For many years Sally was an active and beloved member.
She surprised the Cloak Editor one time when she happily volunteered to answer the call for an "Get to know..." article which was featured in this issue:

<https://saintmartinchurch.org/wp-content/uploads/2024/08/2018-12-The-Cloak.pdf>

Do not be afraid

Do not stand at my grave and weep,
I am not there, I do not sleep.
I am a thousand winds that blow,
I am the sunlight on ripened grain,
I am the gentle autumn rain.
When you wake in the morning hush,
I am the swift, uplifting rush
of quiet birds circling flight,
I am the soft starlight at night.
Do not stand at my grave and cry,
I am not there, I did not die.

Sally and John for many years fed the birds in St. Martin's Memorial Garden. Faithfully they refilled the bird feeder and saw to it that somebody else did if they were not available.

ECW Update - Christa Burr

The August meeting was held on Saturday 10 at the church. A potluck breakfast was enjoyed prior to the meeting. Five ladies were present. Afterwards Martha reported that the administrator of the Coal Pit Learning Center had told her that the center was in need of disposable plates, bowls, and spoons. It was voted that the ECW will provide these items for $170.

The CrossRidge Holiday Bazaar was discussed. It takes place Friday November 15 but Christa will not be available that day and the time until then is too short to have a worthwhile inventory with items to sell. Some handmade advent calendar candles will be available for sale to our members (see photos with samples from last year in the previous Cloak). It was decided to make a bulk purchase of candles to decorate. Martha will lead this at the next meeting. Other means of fundraising were discussed too but the group did not come to a conclusion.

The next meeting will take place on Saturday September 14 at the church as usual at 9am for a potluck breakfast with the workshop starting at 9:30am.

ECW Surprise - Christa Burr

Christa has made items for the ECW several times before to be raffled. One of the favorites was the Chrismon Advent calendar which was won by Sally Dvorak. She was so very happy about it and told me every year that she and John were taking turns every day to decide which Chrismon was the one to add that day.

At Sally's celebration service and reception (the day after the ECW meeting) her son Francis told me that he was giving it back to me. He wanted it to go to a good home so we will have another raffle at St. Martin's for a good cause. God works in mysterious ways.

Explanation of each Chrismon is found on each back.

St. Martin's Bridge/ Card players - Jean Rollins

Bridge players are not so easy to find at St. Martin's. The group is down to 4 players but always happy to teach. In case that not all bridge players can attend a scheduled meeting, the group has decided to still meet and play a different game that is a lot of fun and can be played with 2 to 7 players.

No meetings in September. Please see "Weekly" for announcements.

A Note about Choir Practice . . .

The choir will resume regular practice after Labor Day. Visitors and new people who wish to join the choir are invited to sit with them in the loft during the services until then. And, hopefully, they will continue with the choir for the liturgical year.

O God, we give you thanks for the lives of these people. Rest eternal grant to them, O Lord, and let light perpetual shine upon them. May their souls, and the souls of all the departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace.

Amen.

Save the Date!

Bishop Stevenson will be at Saint Martin's on Sunday November 10. If you would like to be confirmed, be received as an Episcopalian, or renew your baptismal vows, please contact Father Lee.

Confirmation classes begin on Sunday September 15 at 1pm OR Monday, September 16 at 7pm
7 weeks in a row (7 classes total)

You can pick either Sundays or Mondays and all will be taught together.

Sunday School Teachers Needed!

We are in need of teachers for Sunday School during the 10am services. If you have any interest in and availability to work with our elementary school-age children and younger, please think about teaching Sunday School. It is very flexible and easy, and no teaching background is required. We have lessons that are ready-made, or you may create your own. We typically have a SignUp Genius for each season, and you may sign up for as many or as few weeks as your schedule allows. For more information or to jump on board the Sunday School train, please contact Ashley Borders at 804-357-5961 or ashleywborders@gmail.com.

September is Cholesterol month

Why Is Cholesterol Important?

Cholesterol is a waxy substance found in your blood. It is important in building healthy cells in your body; however, high levels can increase your risk of heart disease. With high cholesterol fatty deposits can develop in your blood vessels causing decrease blood flow through your arteries. These deposits can break away to form clots which result in a heart attack or stroke.

High blood cholesterol can be inherited but often is the result of unhealthy lifestyle choices. A healthy diet, regular exercise and medications if prescribed, can help reduce high cholesterol.

How does cholesterol relate to heart disease?

As cholesterol deposits in the arteries (plaque) cause decrease blood flow, less oxygen is carried around in the blood. Decrease oxygen to the heart can cause chest pains.

Eventually blood flow to the heart is blocked causing a heart attack. Blockage to arteries in the brain can cause a stroke. High blood cholesterol itself does not cause symptoms, so many people are unaware that their cholesterol levels are high. Knowing your blood cholesterol levels is an important first step in lowering your levels and decreasing your risk of heart disease.

Cholesterol is carried through your blood attached to proteins. This combination is called lipoprotein. They are categorized as follows:

- Low-density lipoprotein (LDL) – the “bad” cholesterol, transports cholesterol particles throughout the body. These will build up in the arteries making them hard and narrow.
- High-density lipoprotein – the “good cholesterol”, picks up excess cholesterol and transports it back to the liver.
- Triglycerides are also included in a lipid profile. This is also a type of fat in the blood and can also increase your risk of heart disease.

See how your cholesterol numbers compare to the tables below.

Total Cholesterol Level

Less than 200 mg/dL
200–239 mg/dL
240 mg/dL and over

Category

Desirable
Borderline high risk
High risk

LDL Cholesterol Level

Less than 100 mg/dL
100–129 mg/dL

LDL Cholesterol Category

Optimal
Near optimal

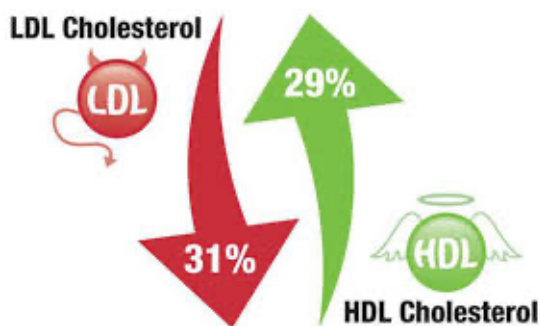

|                     |                 |
|---------------------|-----------------|
| 130-159 mg/dL       | Borderline high |
| 160–189 mg/dL       | High            |
| 190 mg/dL and above | Very high       |

**Cholesterol levels are measured in milligrams (mg) of cholesterol per deciliter (dL) of blood.*

HDL (good) cholesterol protects against heart disease, so for HDL, higher numbers are better.

|                            |                                    |
|----------------------------|------------------------------------|
| A level less than 40 mg/dL | Low – major risk for heart disease |
| 40–59 mg/dL                | Better                             |
| 60 and above               | Best                               |

Triglyceride levels that are borderline high (150-199 mg/dL) or high (200 mg/dL or more) may need treatment in some people.

Causes

Medical conditions that can cause unhealthy cholesterol levels include:

- Chronic kidney disease
- Diabetes
- HIV/AIDS
- Hypothyroidism
- Lupus

Cholesterol levels can be worsened by some types of medications such as ones taken for:

- Acne
- Cancer
- High blood pressure
- HIV/AIDS
- Irregular heart rhythms
- Organ transplants

Factors that can increase your risk of unhealthy cholesterol levels include:

- Poor diet – foods rich in saturated fat or trans fat usually found in fatty cuts of meat, full fat dairy products. Watch for trans fats in packaged snacks or desserts.
- Obesity – Having a body mass index (BMI) of 30 or greater puts you at risk for high cholesterol
- Lack of exercise. Make it a goal or commit to an exercise program as this can boost your “good” cholesterol
- Smoking. Cigarette smoking may cause a decrease in your “good” cholesterol.
- Alcohol. Too much alcohol can increase your total cholesterol and may cause liver damage.
- Age. Although unhealthy cholesterol is more common in people over 40 years old, young children can also have unhealthy cholesterol.
- Gender. Women tend to have lower total cholesterol levels than men before menopause. After menopause, women’s LDL tends to rise.
- Heredity. High blood cholesterol tends to run in families. In this case you can blame your genes.

If you are working toward making changes in your lifestyle and eating habits, know that you don't have to struggle alone. Your healthcare provider is a good resource. An exercise program may be recommended. There are organizations such as the YMCA or a local gym if cleared by your provider. There are other programs such as Silver Sneakers or Nifty after Fifty provided through your health insurance program.

Be well! Be Healthy!

Every Member and Friend of St. Martin's is important. If you have not given us your birth dates and wedding dates, please email them to registrar@saintmartinschurch.org. (We like to know the year too but only for demographic purposes. Birth years are sometimes published for children only.)

We would like to say a prayer for you too on your special day.

Please send any changes to do with the directory like the portrait photos, addresses, emails, telephone/cell phone numbers, birthdays and anniversaries to the above address as well.

Newcomers, please don't hesitate to let us know if you would like to get the weekly email and/or The Cloak.

Blessing Box

Stock the Little Free Pantry!

When you have to shop for your food anyway, why not also pick up a few non-perishable items for the "Little Free Pantry" as well.

No glass containers please.
Also, please nothing which could spoil in the summer heat like mayonnaise, dressings, etc.

We are happy to report that the contents of the box is very well used. It is often empty.

Help to keep it filled!

YOU MAKE A DIFFERENCE!

The weekly announcements will tell us often what is needed. Please place your donations in the basket in the hallway.

LAMB'S Basket

"...I was hungry and you fed me"
Matthew 25:35

Do you need ideas what you could bring for the Lamb's Basket?

You can find the answer for most needed items in most of St. Martin's weeklies.
